Medical History

The image shows a series of handwritten notes arranged in a grid-like structure, likely from a medical history interview. The notes are organized into four main sections:

- Section 1: A large rectangular box at the top left containing the text "Medical History". To the right of this box is a smaller rectangular box with a grid pattern.
- Section 2: Two adjacent rectangular boxes. The left one contains three rows of "mm" (multiple myeloma) abbreviations. The right one contains two rows of "mm" abbreviations.
- Section 3: Two adjacent rectangular boxes. The left one contains three rows of "mm" abbreviations. The right one contains two rows of "mm" abbreviations.
- Section 4: Two adjacent rectangular boxes. The left one contains three rows of "mm" abbreviations. The right one contains two rows of "mm" abbreviations.

The handwriting is in pencil and appears to be a first-draft transcription of a medical record.
